GETTING TO UPEC
INTRODUCTION

About UPEC

Since its foundation in 1970, Université Paris-Est Créteil (UPEC) has established itself as both a locally grounded institution and a globally connected university.

A major multidisciplinary and vocational university, located less than 30 minutes from downtown Paris, UPEC serves a population of over 38 000 students and offers several programs taught in English.

38 000 STUDENTS

3 900 INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

1 600 TEACHING & RESEARCH STAFF

1 100 ADMINISTRATIVE, TECHNICAL & LIBRARY STAFF

17 CAMPUSES IN GREATER PARIS
Studying at UPEC

UPEC offers a wide range of programs in 5 main fields of study:

- Literature & languages
- Law, Economics & Management
- Health
- Humanities & Social Sciences
- Science & Technology

- The organization of studies follows the European Higher Education Area (EHEA) three-cycle system, usually referred to as the «LMD» system in French, and is based on the European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System (ECTS).

- Training is provided at three levels:
  - undergraduate (Licence)
  - graduate (Master)
  - PhD studies (Doctorat).

- In addition to the regular study offer, there are several opportunities to study in English at UPEC, from single courses to entire programs. They enable students to pursue a degree with a strong international dimension while living in France.
